FROM THE MANAGER'S DESK

While walking along the beachfront today, we came across a car parked illegally in the allocated disabled parking bays at KFC. I approached the vehicle and asked if they needed to park there. The persons in the vehicle quickly said no, and that they would move. This they did not do. Previously, at the same spot, when I stopped with a combi full of residents, I was sworn at and chased away.

Many road users do not quite understand the reasoning behind these allocated bays, which are closely situated to the entrance of the shops. They are strategically demarcated so that specialized vehicles can provide the necessary access and space for those in wheelchairs. Some wheelchair users need to manually wheel to the shop, hence proximity to the entrances. There is a number you can phone to report the vehicles who are illegally parked. 0860ROLLING. Car guards should be trained to chase these people out of the bays if they do not have the correct parking disc. Don't feel bad to ask someone to move out of a disabled parking bay – you could be helping someone who really needs it.

In Brazil recently, a car parked illegally in a disabled bay. Quick thinking members of the public decided to teach him a lesson and covered his car with sticky notes! I hope the message was well received and a lesson learnt!

Thank you for your ongoing and gracious support, with love,

DEIDRE BURGER

We couldn't be happier having the world's most famous mouse and his friends standing SIDE BY SIDE with Persons with Disabilities. Running alongside Disney's Mickey and Friends #STAYTRUE campaign, Casual Day invites you to dress up with your besties, your co-workers, your partners and the peeps who've got your back.

On THURSDAY 3 DECEMBER 2020 dress the part:

- Pair up with polka dots, be the Mickey to someone's Minnie, double-down as Donald & Daisy, or be goofy like Goofy – SIDE BY SIDE!
- The CASUAL DAY COLOUR FOR 2020 is # TRUEBLUE

Of every R20 sticker the Home sell for Casual Day we get R8. The balance goes into a national fund for the support of disability.

We will be able to use the funds we raise for the direct benefit of the 57 disabled adults we care for at Cheshire Home Summerstrand, and the 22 disabled children at our outreach project Khaya Cheshire in Walmer Township.
